ABOUT HERB

Herb Adkins is a leadership development expert, international speaker, executive trainer, and pastor who helps leaders discover their purpose, strengthen their influence, and build a legacy that matters.

With more than 40 years of experience spanning the U.S. Army and mid to senior level management roles at Cisco, SAIC, Aviat, and Ivanti, Herb brings practical wisdom earned in the field, not just theory. As Co-Founder and COO of Jenisys Group, he now trains leaders, executives, and entrepreneurs across the U.S. and Africa from his home base in Nairobi, Kenya.

His story is not one of unbroken success. It is one of redemption: personal failure, honest reckoning, and decades of rebuilding, leading, and mentoring others. That honesty, more than any credential, is what earns him a hearing in the rooms he speaks to.
